Adrian coached my son for four months over the summer holiday in preparation for Year 3 at university.

Whilst he had achieved great results in the Year 2 exams he still lacked in confidence and was anxious about his final year.

He wanted to focus on learning techniques and find mechanisms to enable him to learn in a more positive and productive way.

Adrian has given him the confidence and skills needed to cope with not only the exams and pressures of his final year but also with a range of learning techniques helping him retain core knowledge in an effective way.

Adrian engages on a 1:1 level - his sessions have been informative and tailored to my son's personal needs making them interesting yet achievable.

Adrian is both professional and trustworthy and I would have no hesitation in recommending him.

I only wish we had found out about Adrian sooner as my son would have benefitted from Adrian's coaching at a young age especially throughout his GCSE and A Levels.
